GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR EXHIBITORS

All farm and garden products must have been produced or harvested since the last fair, and only one exhibit of every variety from the same planting crop can be entered for premiums in its class.

Exhibitors must follow the rules for the article they are entering in the different contests.

Awards will in no case be made when the exhibit is deemed (by the judges) to be unworthy of the premium.

When there is but one competitor in a class, the judges may award the first premium, if meritorious, but if not worthy of receiving the first premium, and in the opinion of the judges, the article may be worthy of second premium, then the judges must award only the second premium.

If the society should not receive money enough to pay premiums to exhibitors in full, they will be paid proportionally, according to what the society may receive. Any article receiving a cash premium at any previous fair of this Society is not entitled to any reward this year.

The association offers a liberal reward for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons apprehended in committing any malicious mischief or removing or purloining any articles left with the association for exhibition or otherwise.

Authentic pedigrees of bloodstock of all kinds will be required, which must be filed with the secretary at time of entry. No animal will be allowed a premium unless sound. Health papers must be presented before animals are unloaded. No grade males are allowed.

No person shall be permitted in the judging ring except the judges, grooms, or persons in charge of the animals, officers of the association, and members of the press.

Articles on display, will be marked with tags, furnished by the secretary, designating the number of entry, and during the entire fair they must be placed entirely under the control of the officers of the association, and must in no case be removed before the close of the fair without special permission by the secretary or superintendent.

The managers will take every precaution for the safe keeping of animals and articles after arrival and arrangements for exhibition.

The association will not be responsible for any loss or damage that may occur. Exhibitors must give personal attention to their animals and articles, and at the close of the fair attend to their removal.

Exhibitors, when requested by superintendents of departments, are expected to make verbal or written statements concerning their contributions. Refusal to comply with such a request may bar the exhibit from premium.

Judges examining animals and articles are requested to report their awards to the secretary and to him only, until after the award of premiums is published.

NOVELTIES

Any person having novelties of any kind that would prove instructive or interesting will confer a favor on the society by presenting them for exhibition. This applies to all departments

PARKING

Parking on the fairgrounds is FREE in designated areas.
If you need a drive-in pass for the livestock area, please contact the livestock superintendent.
